EMPLOYEES TO BE HONORED—Employees of Cone Mills' Salisbury Plant who have had 25 years or more service with the plant will be honored at a service award banquet in Salisbury on Saturday night, April 16. The 67-year-old plant has 650 employees, 110 of whom have been working there for more than a quarter of a century, two for more than half a century.

Cone Mills President Gives Brief Message To Cone Stockholders

Herman Cone, president of Cone Mills Corporation, told company stockholders Wednesday that higher cotton prices are keeping the textile industry in an extremely low-profit condition. The stockholders met at Proximity YMCA and re-elected directors, who met immediately following, renaming officers.

Mr. Cone stated that competition has increased considerably during the past year and the profit margin has been reduced by textile firms to meet competitive prices.

The company president indicated that the depressed condition shown in the company's annual report, (interpreted in last week's Textorian), still continues to exist.

He added that Cone Mills is working on every item that we can to reduce our cost of manufacturing.

Renamed as directors were Benjamin Cone, Ceasar Cone, Clarence N. Cone, Herman Cone, Sydney M. Cone, Jr., Saul F. Dribben, Charles H. Haynes, Lewis M. Heflin, Marion W. Heiss, Henry G. Nichols, Jansen Noyes, Harold W. Smith, Earle R. Stall and James Webb.

Renamed as officers were: Herman Cone, president and chairman of the board; Mr. Dribben, Mr. Clarence Cone, Mr. Sydney Cone, Mr. Heiss, Mr. Nichols, Mr. Stall and Mr. Webb, vice presidents; Ceasar Cone, treasurer; Mr. Smith, secretary and comptroller.

Sunrise Service

Easter sunrise service will be held at McKnight Memorial Presbyterian Church at 6:30 a.m., April 10. Rev. Louis Andrews is pastor. The public is invited to attend.

YOUTH WEEK PASTOR—When the young people of Sixteenth Street Baptist Church have their first Youth Week program April 10-17, Darrell Moore, above, will serve as the church's pastor. Other church jobs will be filled by members of the group throughout the week.

Sertoma Club Hears Rev. W. L. Bennett

Rev. William L. Bennett, pastor of Sixteenth Street Baptist Church, delivered an Easter message to the Sertoma Club Friday, April 8, at the O Henry Hotel.

"Death is horribly real to all," he declared. "Yet for the believer in Christ God has conquered death, grave and hell in His beloved Son. When we wander into a cemetery, and examine the tombstones, we see but one general inscription, "Here lies so and so, with date of birth and death." How different is the epitaph of the Son of Man. It is, 'He is not here, He is risen.' And because of this, there must be added to the epitaph of every Christian who had died the unshakable hope: 'Because I live, ye shall live also.'"

Pre-Schoolers To Be Entertained Tuesday

Something new in pre-school orientation for next Fall's beginners will be at Ceasar Cone School next Tuesday morning, April 12, from 9:30 to 11:15.

There will be no examinations or immunizations, but pre-schoolers will see a movie, hear records, and stories and eat refreshments. Mothers in the meantime will be served coffee and doughnuts and hear a lecture on school readiness for parents.

The children will go to first grade classrooms to observe a real class in action. They will then go to the music room for story telling, record playing and a motion picture entitled, "Skippy and the Three R's."

Mrs. Frank Starling is in charge of arrangements.

Eller Memorial Opens New Section

The new addition to Eller Memorial Baptist Church will be opened for use on Easter Sunday morning, April 10.

With the creation of a new Young Adult Department, the Young People's Group will move into a section of the new addition.

The new section includes an assembly room which may be divided into classrooms, two new nurseries, a new staircase, two new hass, three new classrooms, and a new office.

The church is planning Baby Day for April 17 with special recognition for babies and parents at the 11 o'clock service.

A revival will take place from April 18-24 with the evangelist being Rev. O. Jack Murphy, pastor of Penelope Baptist Church, Hickory.

Slogan of a diaper service in Chicago: "Rocka Dry Baby."

Many Privileges Offered By YMCA

Cone Memorial YMCA offers bathing, shaving, and locker room privileges to its members, and invites every employee of Cone Mills on any one of the three shifts to affiliate with the association, and to avail himself or herself of the opportunity to improve health by bathing in a warm comfortable shower room, daily.

At Proximity, Leo Russell opens the building from 6:00 to 7:00 a.m. each morning that the plant operates, for the first shift; Don Bradly, supervisor for the third shift, opens the YMCA from 7:00 to 8:00 a.m., and Dallas Seabolt, supervisor for the second shift, opens the building nightly from 11:00 to 12:00, each night of the working week.

"If you live out of town, arrange with your car pool so that all can meet at the YMCA for shower and physical privileges, and go home after a warm comfortable shower, a fresh shave, or a snack to eat," say Y staff members. At White Oak Arnold Tidwell opens the YMCA for White Oak, Revolution, or Print Works employees. These employees may attend Proximity, whichever it most convenient.

Membership in the Cone Memorial YMCA includes White Oak or Proximity. Cone Mills Corporation has made possible these privileges at additional expense, and the YMCA sincerely hopes that every employee will take out a membership, and make use of the privileges.

Local Physician To Address Ministers

Dr. William J. Reid, our community physician, will address the Textile Ministerial and Religious Workers' Association at their monthly meeting, Wednesday, April 13.

Dr. Reid will speak out of a wealth of experience and professional study on "The Minister and His Health with Reference to Physical Spiritual Fitness," Every Minister is urged to be present. The luncheon will be served at noon.

Magazine Features Cone Chambray

The seven and one-half million readers of the April Woman's Home Companion are seeing Cone chambray as colorful tablecloths in full-page color editorial feature.

This is just another of the many ways that Cone fabrics are being recognized by leading home decorators.

Auto Age

The fact that some children cannot read simple words and sentences, yet can identify at a glance most makes of autos on the road, is puzzling psychologists; they think it has something to do with "visual perception." . . . Or something.

Proximity Y's Men Hear District Gov.

Proximity Y's Men had their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Proximity YMCA. Broadus Troxler, district governor, spoke briefly and presented the Inaugural Charge to the incoming officers.

In his charge Mr. Troxler stressed four I's, which are important in Y's Men. They are Idealism, Interest, Initative and Industry.

The newly inaugurated officers are: Howard Garner, president; Garland Seabolt, first vice president; Loy Brafford, second vice president; George Nance, secretary; Edgar Gardner, treasurer.

All Y's Men are urged to come out and support these new officers in the coming year.

The next meeting of the Y's Men Club will be Tuesday, April 19, at 5:30 at Proximity YMCA.

Funeral Held For James M. McCune

Funeral was held last Wednesday afternoon at Forbis and Murray Chapel for James M. McCune, 73, who died Monday at 1:30 p.m. at Guilford County Home where he had lived since last October. He formerly was a resident of 2410 Cypress Street.

The service was conducted by Rev. H. V. Brady, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church. Burial was in Green Hill Cemetery.

Mr. McCune, who was employed intermittently for 18 years at White Oak Plant, had been in declining health for several years and seriously ill for three weeks.

Surviving are his wife, the former Lillie Padgett; one son, Ernest McCune of Wetumpka, Ala.; two stepdaughters, Mrs. James Weaver and Mrs. John Paschal of Greensboro; one brother, Robert McCune and one sister, Mrs. J. S. Garrison of Athens, Ga.; and two grandchildren.

Local Women To Help Cancer Drive

Local captains in the American Cancer Society Drive are Mrs. C. H. Jones, Proximity; Mrs. Louis Brady, Print Works; Mrs. Johnie Lowe, Revolution; Miss Jesse Stone, White Oak. The drive will be on April 18.

A kick-off meeting for captains throughout the city will be held Wednesday, April 13 at 10:30 a.m. at the Center Theater.

Sunrise Service To Be At 5:54 a.m.

Annual Sunrise Easter Service of the Carraway Memorial Methodist Church and Sixteenth Street Baptist Church will be held at Sunrise, Sunday, April 10. The time is 5:54 a.m. The services will be held at the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church. Rev. G. E. White, of Carraway Memorial, will bring the message. The choir of the host church will furnish the music.

Revolution Club To Have Open House

Revolution Community Club met last Wednesday morning in their new club room over the Revolution Employment Office, and voted to have open house Sunday, May 1. They also voted to have a covered-dish luncheon at their next meeting to be held May 4.

Open house hours are 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and the public is cordially invited, especially other local clubs.

Mrs. Hannibal Moore, president, presided, and devotional was by Mrs. Kermit Ritter.

Entre Nous Members Model Spring Hats

Mrs. Webster Owen, employed in the millinery department of a local store, showed new Spring hats at the luncheon meeting of the Entre Nous Club last Friday. She used club members as models.

Mrs. Audree Anthony presided over the business session. Mrs. John Medearis gave the devotional.

The speaker was introduced by Miss Mary Helen Fowlkes, program chairman.

St. Paul's Church Closes Crusade

St. Paul's Methodist Church ends its attendance crusade with special Easter services. For the past 12 weeks the members of the church have been engaged in an attendance crusade under the theme: "God is our Strength." This crusade has proven very effective and attendance has been increasing, according to Joel T. Key, pastor.

The Easter services will begin with a Sunrise Service at 6:30, Sunday morning. Sunday School will be at the usual hour, 9:45 and the morning worship service at 11:00. The church choir will sing special Easter music under the direction of Fredrick Jones.

The annual spring revival services are planned for April 22-May 1, with Rev. Bob Dennis as the evangelist.

NOTICE

The undersigned plants will stand Monday, April 11, 1955, in observance of the Easter holidays.

The third shifts will resume operations at 11:00 o'clock Monday night, April 11, and the first and second shifts will start up at the regular time on Tuesday, April 12.

We will run Friday, April 15th.

John H. Kesler

Pres. Cone To Address First Salisbury Plant Service Award Banquet

Herman Cone, president of Cone Mills Corporation, will address the first annual service award banquet for employees of Salisbury Plant at 6 o'clock Saturday night, April 16. The event honoring long-service employees will be held in the dining room of Haven Lutheran Church.

To Honor 110 Employees

One hundred and ten employees will receive service awards for 25 years or more service with the plant. Miss Josephine Kirk and John H. Kesler will receive special awards for more than a half-century with the plant. President Cone will present the 50-year awards.

Service pins, bearing the blue and gold seal of 25-year service, along with additional awards will be presented by Cone Mills Vice President Clarence N. Cone, assisted by Salisbury Plant Superintendent David Smiley.

Plant Manager C. S. Morris, Jr. will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. John L. Yost, pastor of Haven Lutheran Church, has been invited to give the invocation.

Entertainment

Entertainment will be provided by E. L. Reeves, Charles Bolden, Roy Bailey and Reuben Hellard, singers, who will be accompanied at the piano by Miss Betty Jarrell.

Miss Josephine Kirk

Miss Kirk, one of the two to be especially honored, has the longest service record of any employee at Salisbury Plant. Born in Rowan County August 23, 1874, she began work in the plant but moved to Durham with her family where she found employment in East Durham Cotton Mill.

The Kirks moved to Burlington and Greensboro where she worked in textile mills and became adept at weaving. When the family returned to Salisbury, Josie, as she is known to everyone, went to work as a weaver in the old Salisbury Mill on June 1, 1897. She has been employed in that capacity since that time.

Although Miss Kirk's employment with the Salisbury Plant totals 65 years, her continuous service record totals 58 years, since it was interrupted when her family moved from town.

She makes her home with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gore, 846 South Main Street. A member of the Faith Evangelical Reformed Church, she spends her leisure hours playing with her nieces, nephews, grand nieces and grand nephews or watching television.

John H. Kesler

Mr. Kesler, the other employee to receive special recognition for more than half a century service, was born March 4, 1886 in Rowan County. He began work in the old Salisbury Mill on June 1, 1897 and worked for three years in the Spinning Department. His family moved to Bessemer City for a few months but returned to Salisbury, December 1, 1900. It was then that he began his continuous service in the Weaving Department of the local plant. After 11 years as a weaver, Mr. Kesler became a loom-fixer, the job he has held for 44 years.

In 1911, Mr. Kesler married Miss Ila Elizabeth Garwood. They have seven children and 19 grandchildren. Three of them are employed at Salisbury Plant. They are Worth T. Kesler, assistant overseer of the Weaving Department on first shift; Mrs. Lucille Yates, employed in the Weaving Department, and Mrs. Rachel Shives, Spinning Department. Others are Mrs. Frances Agner, Mrs. Elane Cadell, Mrs. Edna Wensil and Mrs. Rose Gregory.

Mr. Kesler attends Stallings Memorial Baptist Church. He is a member of the Jr. O.U.A.M. and the Sons and Daughters of Liberty.

The veteran employee enjoys fishing and hunting.

Plant History

History of the Salisbury Plant is a tribute to the ingenuity of Salisbury citizens. An outgrowth of an 1887 religious revivial and the solicitation and planning by a community group, a 200-loom mill was constructed the following year to provide a way for people "to make an honest living."

Names prominent in the founding of this enterprise will be recalled by Salisbury citizens: Rev. F. L. Murdoch, W. L. Kluttz, S. H.

The World Owes Him Much

One of the outstanding statesmen of all time has stepped down from active service. The great "V for Victory" gentleman has voluntarily relinquished his position of leadership in Great Britain. It is indeed well that a man of his caliber voluntarily relinquished his position even though Great Britain and the world will probably sorely miss him.

No doubt his successor, Sir Anthony Eden, will measure up admirably to his responsibilities. He certainly was well schooled as a second man to Winston Churchill.

The world owes Winston Churchill much, probably even more than Great Britain owes that distinguished gentleman. There have been times when his influence probably was not to the best interest of this nation, but we must remember that his chief responsibility was to his own country.

No one can question his integrity and his good intentions. Certainly his mentality and his fortitude will always be admired. The way he has from time to time overcome great physical handicaps which would have thrown the average man is indicative of the type of person the ex-Prime Minister is. As much as we admire all his abilities of statesmanship, honesty and integrity, and as much as we subscribe to his motives and ideals, we admire still more the fact that unselfish goals were his prime purposes and not the promotion of Winston Churchill.

We do not question the fact that he had to deal with politicians from time to time and used political strategy in so doing. But we do believe his skirts are clean insofar as unscrupulous politics are concerned. Even in using great eloquence and polished English in delivering his many world-stirring speeches, one did not detect an overdose of ego in any of them.

Although this giant in world affairs has stepped down from his active duties, it is to be hoped that as long as he breathes the air of the living he will exert his influence toword his ultimate goal of goals — the achievement of world peace.

Miss Mary Ella Watkins of Haw River, who will be married to Bobby Keck of Graham, on Easter Sunday, was honored with a shower by her sisters the past Saturday evening. A corsage of spring flowers was pinned on Miss Watkins' party dress.

Bridal games were directed by Mrs. Robert Jones of Mebane and prizes were won by mesdames Albert Caviness, Bob Watkins, D. M. Blackman, and John Robert Watkins.

The hostesses presented their sister with a silver perculator. Many lovely and useful gifts were opened by Miss Watkins.

A party plate carrying out the bridal motif of green and white was served to Mrs. W. E. Watkins, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Keck, mother of the groom-to-be, and Mesdames Jack Mullis, Alene Still, D. M. Blackman, Lillie Lassiter, Floyd Clayton, Annie Cole, Bob Watkins, Albert Caviness, John R. Watkins, Mary Jones, Hassil Lassiter, Tootie Jones, Edward Norwood, Robert Jones, Mary Pickard, and little Miss Betty Jean Watkins.

LISTEN AMERICANS!
... by Dr. George S. Benson
DIRECTOR - NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

What would you think about this statement: "Socialism means the use of government to bring about equality of opportunity among citizens." Sounds like a good role for government, doesn't it? Equality of opportunity is one of the cardinal objectives of our American political and economic system. We have come nearer this goal than any other nation in history. But our system is not "Socialism." It is the opposite to Socialism. To say that "Socialism means the use of government to bring about equality of opportunity among citizens" is, at best, a half truth or a slanted statement.

Yet the statement appeared in the 1946 edition of Magruder's American Government high school textbook. Now this widely used text has been completely rewritten.

The 1955 Magruder says: "Socialism is often identified with communism, primarily because followers of Karl Marx often refer to themselves as socialists. But socialism is really much older than Marxism. While the socialists believe and preach many of the things that the Marxists do, most of them today reject revolution. . . . The evolutionary socialists believe they can bring about socialism peacefully. . . . By working within the established framework of the governement of their own particular country."

The 1946 text was oriented toward world government and failed to adequately recognize the advantages of the private enterprise economic system.

Here, from the opening chapter of the 1955 Magruder's American Government, is the kind of textbook writing most of America's teachers have been searching for, and for which the parents of America can be grateful:

Ours is a nation with the highest standard of living ever known to man. Look about you; it is easy to see the material things that make it so; automobiles, skyscrapers, radios, busy factories, airplanes, mighty dams, electric lights, and fertile farms; the list is endless. But these things are only the material evidences of America's greatness.

"We are a great nation and a great people today because we have carried forward the spirit of the Declaration of Independence. . . . Liberty conceives that the mind and the spirit of men can be free only if the individual is free to choose his own calling, to develop his talents, to win and keep a home sacred from intrusion, to rear children in an orderly society. It holds that man must be free to earn, to spend, to save, and to accumulate property that may give protection and security to himself and to his loved ones."

"Patriotism can be aroused by patriotic teachers, editors, radio news interpreters, film producers, and Government propaganda; but patriotism whose roots grow deepest comes from a just government that fosters equal opportunities for all. . . . Such a government is our own. . . . Thus it is our privilege as well as our duty to love our country, support its Constitution, obey its laws, respect its flag, and defend it against all enemies."

Health For All

For The Future

You are a man in your forties and you are resting at home for a few months. Not your idea of living? Of course not. But it is happening to an increasing number of men who break down with tuberculosis in their middle years.

Treatment of TB with drugs developed in recent years has made it possible for some patients to leave the hospital after a certain point and finish treatment at home. Selected patients are able to go through the entire course of treatment at home with regular visits to a clinic. As one of either group, you have some very special problems, as you well know.

It's a lonely life in spite of being with your family. In a hospital you would be with others making the same fight against TB. Eager as your family and friends are to help, they cannot share all your burdens. You have to do the "resting" to give your body a chance to heal. You have to fill hours that seem much more than 60 minutes long. You may be plagued with worries about the future.

Stop right there. You can do something about the future. Your state and the Federal government are partners in a program to prepare you for and place you in the right job when you are well again. This could mean helping you return safely to your old job or to some new kind of work. These are not charity services. They are your right, just as a public school education is your child's right.

Your doctor will tell you when you are physically able to start training. He or the public health nurse or social worker can help you get in touch with the proper agency, in most states called the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. You may be able to start on a correspondence course right away. Later there may be special school or on-the-job training. You can be sure of getting all necessary help in starting back to work. There is no cost to you for most of these services.

But I am not this man, you insist. Let's hope you won't be one of the 110,000 Americans who will be stricken with TB this year. But chances are you will know one of them. You can help and encourage him to take full advantage of his "rest period" to build a better future.

Mrs. Nola Hathcock is back at work after being confined in Rowan Memorial Hospital for two weeks.

Mrs. Eula Thompson is home from Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, after being confined there for two weeks for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Erma Norris has returned to work after an illness of five months.

J. W. Harper is home from Rowan Memorial Hospital recovering from an appendectomy operation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schenk announce the birth of a daughter March 15 at Rowan Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Schenk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Archie.

Mrs. Juanita Plummer is back at work after being out several weeks due to a fall suffered at home.

The children of I. S. Reavis of Route 3, Yadkinville, gathered Sunday, March 27, at his home to help him celebrate his 98th birthday.

Mr. Reavis is feeble but was well enough to go to the table for dinner. He is a retired farmer and was quite active in church work. Until this past year he attended church almost every Sunday.

Mr. Reavis has 13 children, 67 grandchildren, 86 great-grandchildren, and six great, great-grandchildren. His wife died in 1940.

He is the father of Mrs. Ed Kenerly and grandfather of Hendrix Kenerly.

Mr. Lee Trexler entered Baptist Hospital last week for treatment.

Haven Luthran Church News:

The weekday church school completed a very successful season Monday, March 28. There was an enrollment of 121 and a staff of 52.

On the final day the children brought fruit, candy and nuts to be distributed to the sick and shut-ins of the congregation. The children visited the shut-ins and County Home and sang for them.

The Cherub and Junior Choirs will continue to rehearse on Mondays from 4 until 4:45 p.m.

The Willing Workers Bible Class held its regular quarterly meeting Monday night, March 28, at the Church with Group 1 in charge.

The business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ophelia Lingle. The class decided to help one of its members who is sick.

A social hour was enjoyed afterwards with refreshments in the Easter motif of candy Easter rabbit, sandwiches, cookies and pickles with cold drinks being served.

The mid-week Lenten services have been well attended and a great good coming from them.

The Harold B. Jarrett American Legion Auxiliary met last week at the clubhouse on the Lincolnton Road.

Mrs. W. B. Garrett, chaplain, gave devotions, using John 3:16 for scripture, her topic "God greatest lover," followed by silent prayer. Pledge to the flag was repeated by members and all joined in singing "America."

After the business was dispensed with, Mrs. William H. Hardin brought a most interesting talk to the group. She told about the work at the VA Hospital and the Program for Coronation which will be held at the hospital Sunday evening. Miss Ruth Kesler has been chosen as "Duchess" to represent all American Legion Auxiliaries of Rowan County and other Auxiliaries that do voluntary work at the VA Hospital. Each group or organization represented at the hospital will have a "Duchess" to represent it and Duchesses to rule over the Carnival which will be held at the hospital Monday and Tuesday.

The business session was presided over by Miss Pauline Safrit, first vice president.

A social hour was enjoyed. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harry Ludwig, Miss Pauline Safrit and Mrs. Henry Simpson.

Easter Seals Help Crippled Children

There is a legend about the old Marshalesea prison for debtors in London, England, that has a modern application. It is said that once each year for many years a man appeared at the prison to pay off the debts of 30 prisoners and release them from their chains. The benefactor was known only as "the man in the blue suit."

Here in Greensboro we have many men and women of generous spirit who play the role of "the men in the blue suit" at least once man in the blue suit" at least once each year. For each year during the Easter Seal campaign of the Greensboro Society for Crippled Children and Adults, they make their contributions to help release some child from the chains of crippling. Each year, they give some child the opportunity to walk, to talk, to feed himself, to go to school.

Many Greensboro children are now receiving this care, but there are many more youngsters who need this same opportunity.

Join the ranks of "the man in the blue suit." Send your contributions to Easter Seals, c/o your local postmaster. Do it today.

Statistics say there are 16,000,000 lefthanded people in our land.

Which Do You Want?

Cash or Character?
Possessions or Personality?
Riches or Righteousness?
Gold or God?
Houses or Honor?
Food or Faith?

Channel 2 Highlights Easter Programs

Tomorrow at 10:00 a.m. Channel 2 presents "The Day Before Easter," a moving story of a minister who tries to find the meaning of Easter. With parish members who include a paralyzed Korean veteran, a rebellious daughter, and a grief-stricken mother, he rediscovers the meaning of this great holiday. The simplicity of the story will appeal to viewers seeking too a meaning to Easter day.

On Easter morning, WFMY-TV will sign on at 9:00 a.m. in order to bring viewers more varied Easter programming. Religious services throughout the morning hours will give viewers an opportunity to observe Easter celebrations in the Catholic Chapel at Fordham University, the National Cathedral in Washington and Saters Baptist Church in a small suburb of Baltimore. Accompanying all three services is a narration and religious music.

"Look Up and Live," at 10:30 a.m., offers a special three-part Easter program. The religious series designed primarily for teenagers will feature interviews with the man on the street, musical selections, and a flashback to the first Easter morning. During New York City's great Easterparade, CBS Television reporter Edward Donovan will question bystanders about the meaning of Easter. Then, back in the studios time goes back nearly two thousand years to "interview" Mary Magdalene and the disciples. Climaxing the program the "Look Up and Live" chorus will sing "Rejoice in the Lord," "This Glad Day," and "Alleluia."

Easter night at 9:00 p.m., Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will take over "Sunday Theatre" for a special Easter holiday musical. Ballerina Roberta Onigman returns to dance on the show in a series of spring songs: "Narcissus," "Blue Bell," and "Goldenrod." "I'll Remember April," "Sunshine," and "Isn't it a Lovely Day to be Caught in the Rain," are only a few of the songs leading up to the serious finale with Waring's own "Easter Song."

FIRST BIRTHDAY—Randy Alan Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gray, 1402 Vine Street, celebrated his first birthday on March 31. His father is employed in the Spinning Department of Proximity Plant.

Final rites were held for Rev. H. C. Hairston of High Point at the East White Oak Baptist Church Sunday, April 3. Rev. McLaugling and Rev. Wilson officiated. Rev. Hairston was a faithful pastor for 36 years. He died Thursday, March 31 in the High Point Hospital. Burial was also in High Point. Survivors were his wife, one daughter, two sons and one granddaughter.

Easter Program for the A.M.E. Church was held Sunday, April 3 at 7:30 p.m., under direction of Mrs. Bertha Miller.

Ladies Progressive Club met at the home of Mrs. Willie May Shaw, 1712 10th Street at 5:00 p.m. Mrs. Hayes presided. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Sarah Hill and friends spent the week end in Washington, D. C. and Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Ethel Seibles and family spent the week end in South Carolina.

AMERICA BY 1975

America by 1975 will be a land using twice as much plastics, chemical fertilizers, and twice as much synthetic fibers and petro-chemicals, according to reports by the National Association of Manufacturers.

The NAM cites a recent study by McGraw-Hill Publishing Company which points up the tremendous growth that lies ahead of this nation.

The report points out that output of plastics should increase from 2.8 billion pounds to 6 billions in 1975, that the market for fertilizers will double, that production of synthetic fibers should triple and displace much of the natural fibers, and that investment in petro-chemicals may increase from $3 billion to $9 billion by 1970.

How Our Business System Operates

It takes about $12,000 invested in building, equipment and tools to make just one job in manufacturing industry.

That money comes from the savings of people. It is invested in the hope of profit from which dividends on share will be paid.

When a company is efficient, it can provide its customers with the goods and services they want at the prices they will pay. If there is money left over after bills for salaries, wages, raw materials, replacement and taxes are paid, the business has made a profit.

While this profit belongs to shareholders who risked their savings by investing in the business, a portion of it invariably is left in the business for the expansion of buildings, equipment and tools which makes for still more jobs.

PRES. CONE TO ADDRESS

Wiley, William Smithdeal, J. D. Gaskill, T. F. Kluttz. These made up the committee "to solicit subscriptions and to formulate plans for the purpose of materializing the wishes of the meeting" held in a local warehouse by Rev. Murdoch.

The first cloth was woven on the looms of the Salisbury Mill in 1888.

Although it was not until 1920 that the Cone interests purchased a majority of the stock in Salisbury Cotton Mills, the firm had already chosen the Cone Export and Commission Company (now Cone Mills Inc.) as its selling agent as early as 1891.

Today, after 68 years of steady growth, the Salisbury Plant of Cone Mills Corporation, as it became known in 1952, has 32,192 spindles and 782 looms. The major part of the plant's production is colorful Cone sport denim. However in the past, the plant has produced ginghams, tickings, chambrays and coverts as well as sport denim.

C. S. Morris, Sr., first as manager from 1905-1920, and later as president from 1920 to 1952 of Salisbury Cotton Mills, successfully guided the operations during the period of maximum growth and expansion for the plant. He retired in 1953 as a vice president of Cone Mills Corporation.

C. S. Morris, Jr. is the present plant manager. David Smiley is superintendent.

Attitude

Attitude can be defined as a state of mind, and a person's mind develops as he thinks. Therefore, if a person thinks safety is good for him personally and for his fellow workers, and that it is practical, he will realize it pays off in many ways that are beneficial. The correct attitude will then become a part of him whether at work, at home, on the highway, or in recreational activities and his chances for injury will be greatly reduced.

Fly-Fishing Dates To Early Times

Almost as old as fishing itself is the use of brightly colored objects to lure fish. Sports Illustrated points out that as far back as ancient times fishermen used fly-fish for bait. In fact the first fly-fisher in the world was a Macedonian sheepherder.

Fishing on the banks of the River Astraeus he noticed fish jumping out of the water to seize a reddist colored fly. It didn't take long for him to catch on. Wrapping some crimson wool around a hook, he added two neck feathers from a red rooster and thus having made the first fish-fly in captivity, proceeded to catch trout from the Astraeus.

If you have the urge and enough dexterity to tie your shoelaces, you too can make fish flies . . . and probably catch more fish besides. Most fishermen admit that there are many days when a fly caster will outscore other anglers ten to one.

Choice Of Food Allowed In New, Easy Reducing Plan

A reducing diet that allows a wide variety of good normal foods . . . including such favorites as steak, baked potato, seafood and delicious desserts . . . arouses interest.

This sound reducing diet, so easy to follow because there is no need to count calories, has been outlined in a new booklet, "How To Reduce And Stay Reduced On 3 Good Meals A Day." The booklet is offered free by a leading manufacturer of unflavored gelatine.

By a simple formula given in the book, the dieter finds calorie needs per day. Then the dieter forgets about calories and uses a color-indicator for choice of foods. Key to the simple and interesting reducing program is the Choice-Of-Foods diet chart. The foods one must eat are classified into six simple lists: milk, vegetable, fruit, bread, meat and fat. The calories have already been counted, with all foods in each list being of the same caloric value.

Protein plays an important role in this diet plan to build and renew body tissues. Unflavored gelatine, an all-protein food, is logically recommended on the diet and especially in between-meal drinks. An envelope of unflavored gelatine taken in fruit juice, water or bouillon before meals appeases the appetite and supplies additional protein.

To get a free copy of "How To Reduce And Stay Reduced On 3 Good Meals A Day," write Box GA, Johnstown, New York. Request booklet by name, and be sure to include your own name and address.

So Mrs. Housewife can read the temperature inside of her food freezer without opening the door, there's a thermometer on the market which is connected to the freezer by a flexible tube and mounted on the nearby wall.

Now there's an electric toaster on the market that does three slices at once.
